Definition
Our privacy policy should be simple and understandable for everyone. In this Data Protection Declaration, the official terms of the Data Privacy Policy (GDPR) are used. The official definitions are explained in Art. 4 GDPR.

Server-Logfiles
When you visit our website, it is technically necessary for us to collect certain data information via your Internet browser. The following data is recorded during an ongoing connection for communication between your internet browser and our web server:

- Date and time of access
- Name of the requested file
- The page of the file which was requested
- Access status
- Web browser and operating system used
- (complete) IP-Address of the user’s computer
- Quantity of the data transferred

We collect the listed data in order to guarantee a smooth connection and to facilitate a User-friendly website. The log file also serves to evaluate system security and stability as well as for administrative purposes. The legal basis for the temporary storage of data or log files is Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR.

For technical security reasons, in particular to prevent attack attempts to our web server, we store this data temporarily. Based on this data, it is not possible for us to identify individual Users. Within 6 months, the data is anonymised by shortening the IP address at a domain level, so that it is no longer possible to establish a reference to the individual User.

Cookies
Our website uses so-called "cookies". The legal basis may also result from Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR if the processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is a party or for the implementation of pre-contractual measures taken at the request of the data subject.

If cookies are used for analysis purposes, we will inform you separately about this within the framework of this data protection declaration and obtain your consent.
